Statement from Chair, Crystal D. Peoples-Stokes Congratulating New Members of the Legislative Women's Caucus

This year, women running for office are increasingly reflecting New York State's rich diversity. Women are winning elections all over the country. The New York State Legislative Women's Caucus is expecting significant successes in the 2019 Legislative Session with 70 women elected and re-elected to the New York State Legislature on November 6, 2018. Our growing caucus represents a state that wants to empower the voices of women and put women's issues at the forefront. This is a pink wave; As more and more women are taking a seat at the table, families everywhere have powerful voices representing them and fighting for a better future for everyone.

Congratulations to the reelected and newly elected women of the New York State Legislature. I am excited for the newly elected women to join us in our fight!

We continue to see the caucus grow, with the most women ever elected to the New York State Legislature. Next Year marks the centennial anniversary of the first women elected to the New York State Legislature; Ida B. Sammis, and Mary Lilly. Since 1919, 193 women have been elected to the Legislature. I look forward to working on important women's issues with all of the remarkable women of the New York State Legislature.
